THE COURT AND A SOLDIER HAVE TILT

Judge Gordon Promptly Directed Sheriff to Bring Soldier Before the Court.

An amusing episode in connection with the term of the Circuit Court now in session, with Judge J. F. Gordon on the bench, was a clash between the civil and military authorities Saturday when a soldier who was summoned to appear before the grand jury refused to accept the summons.

Judge Gordon promptly directed sheriff Joel A. C. Pickens to bring the young gentleman before the grand jury at once and to summon sufficient deputies to do so. The officer lost no time in getting the soldier into the jury room but when once there the military genius refused to answer any questions. When this was reported to the court, Judge Gordon directed the sheriff to bring the soldier before the court which that officer lost no time in doing. The Judge who is always considerate of everybody did not commit him to jail for contempt as many would have done but questioned him in a kindly and fatherly way as to his reasons for refusing to give the court the benefit of any knowledge he might have of the matters before the grand jury.

The soldier replied that he was acting under orders from his superior officer, and must obey him. Judge Gordon then advised him to get in communication with that superior officer at once and notify him that the Court held the military to be subservient to the civil authorities and that if the superior officer still directed him not to testify the court would at once secure the arrest of both the soldier and the superior officer and would see if they would then continue to refuse to give the court the information desired. After this admonition the soldier was allowed to go and the presumption is he telephoned or sent a wireless to his adjutant as he soon appeared before the court and expressed a willingness to tell all he knew, and while his loyalty to his superior is to be admired, he leaned from the court that discretion is the better part of valor.

Substantially Remembered Thanksgiving Eve.

Immediately on his return to the Parsonage, after the regular Prayer Meeting Service and Sunday School Teachers' Lecture on Wednesday night last, Dr. Mather and his family were literally besieged by a host of his friends, neighbors and members of his church and congregation, who proceeded to fill up his dining room and kitchen with all kinds of good things appropriate to the Thanksgiving Season, and gave him to understand that they did not desire any of his house hold to lack for the good things of this life at this festive time. Just who composed the party would be difficult to ascertain, but, we heard of these:

Mrs. W. N. Rochester, Judge and Mrs. J. G. Rochester, Mrs. Ernest Carnahan, Miss Virginia Flanary, Mrs. Miles Flanary, Mrs. Maynard, Gene Love, the Misses Smart, Mrs. Hicklin, Miss Iva Hicklin, Mrs. Mrs. Fannie Walker, Miss Nellie Walker, Mrs. W. B. Yates, Mrs. Cochran T. H. Cochran, Miss Easley, Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. J. W. Blue, Mrs. J. H. Orme, Mrs. H. K. Woods, Mrs. W. J. Deboe, Mrs. Harpending, Mrs. McMullin, Mrs. Flanary, Miss Ruby James, Judge L. H. James, Mrs. Guthrie J. N. Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Olive, Mrs. Gus Taylor and Mrs. Morris.

Dr. Mather threw open the doors of his study to his guests, and thanked them heartily for their kindness and good wishes, adding the hope that each of them might have a happy "Thanksgiving Day" on the morrow.

A New Rabbit Law.

Much misapprehension as to game law passed by the last Legislature has arisen in this county, and probably in many other counties, especially as to setting traps and snares for rabbits and other game. The act that passed was very brief and is as follows:

"That it shall be unlawful for any-one to set a steel trap, deadfall or snare, or to loose or hunt with a ferret upon the premises or property of another without first securing the written consent of the owner of the premises or property, and anyone thus offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $5. nor more than $25."

"Having in possession game caught as set out in section 1, shall be prima facie evidence of guilt as herein provided.

FROM CALF'S STOMACH

Badly Chewed Bills Amounting to $118, Were Extricated.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 17.—While going milking Mrs. Luther Calvert, who lives at Clinton, dropped a pocket-book containing five twenty dollar bills, a ten, a five and three ones, besides a silver quarter. The money was missed an hour later and thorough search revealed a quarter, which showed signs of having been chewed upon by a calf.

A young heifer in the yard had a guilty look, and a veterinary surgeon was summoned. The roll was extricated from the stomach of the calf in a badly mutilated condition. The bills were taken to a local bank cashier who sent them to Washington to be redeemed.

JAMES HERRIN ACQUITTED

Verdict Returned at Four O'clock

Sunday Afternoon. Jury Unanimous.

James Herrin is a free man. The verdict, which was handed at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, during a most terrific rain and hail storm was not unexpected as it was current rumor on the street that the Commonwealth had not made out its case and that the jury would set Jas. Herrin free by the evidence, and instructions based on it. The case has been a hard fought one from the beginning on account of the prominence of the parties both the accused and the victim. Fred Daugherty who was killed by Herrin two years ago Christmas eve day, was popular and well connected. He married a most estimable young lady, Miss Lillie Franklin, and they had one child a beautiful boy. That death should come so unexpectedly and so suddenly between Fred Daugherty and his loved ones was a shock from which it will take them many a day to recover. It was no less a shock to the man who found it necessary in self defense to send the fatal bullet on its way. Herrin has been loyally supported in his trouble—the first he ever had—by all his family. His brothers, and aged mother standing by him in a way that was admirable to see, and his friends innumerable rallying at every call and ready to furnish bail in any amount and at any hour. Daugherty's relatives and friends employed counsel to assist the Commonwealth and left no stone unturned to see that justice was done. Congressman Ollie M. James, Judges L. H. James and Carl Henderson of the local bar, assisted by Congressman A. O. Stanley, of Henderson, and Fowler, of Illinois, were counsel for the defense. Commonwealth attorney John L. Grayot and county attorney John A. Moore were assisted by A. C. Moore in the prosecution and those who crowded the court room and heard the speeches and taking of evidence which preceded them, say it was a battle royal and that every point was contested to the last ditch.

The case was called Wednesday and it took the better part of two days to get the jury, which from the first was recognized as a good one and one capable of hearing the evidence impartially and doing justice. The speaking occupied two days each attorney excepting L. H. James making a speech, seven in all. The case was given to the jury Saturday night and Judge Gordon announced that he would convene court at eight o'clock Sunday morning to learn their verdict if one was reached. They did not reach a verdict however and the Judge re-convened court at 2:30 o'clock and remained in session until four o'clock when the jury filed in and read their verdict.

RESIGNED AS TEACHER

Miss Edith Brewer the 3rd grade teacher in the Marion Graded school handed her resignation to the board of trustees Saturday. It was promptly accepted and Miss Mary Lou Wilborn given the place. Miss Brewer left for her home at Greenview, Ill., Monday.

BAPTIST PEOPLE SURPRISE THEIR PASTOR

Wednesday evening about 7:30 o'clock I went to my door in answer to a call. When I opened the door, I saw one of my deacons and I invited him in and behold there was with more than four score of men, women and children and not one of them came empty handed. They spent about an hour in our home, and when they were gone with a deep feeling of gratitude and a heart full of love to such people as ours—we went into our dining room to invoice our donation.

We found flour in sack, in barrel, in bread, We had chicken alive and chick-en dead.

We had fine table, linen nice towels, beautiful chinaware, and every member of the family was remembered with some line of dry goods.

Time and space would fail me to speak of all the good things to eat, cakes, candies, nuts, fruits, canned goods of all kinds preserves, jellies, sorghum molasses, sour kraut and the largest pumpkin we ever saw and etc. and etc.

Our desire is as they minister so bountifully of their temporal things to us, that we may be able to feed them on spiritual things.

HORRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION

ANOTHER LOCALS

Another Mine Horror This Time in This County—Victims of Disaster Blown to Atoms.

Two men are dead and much property destroyed as the result of another terrible mine disaster to be added to the long list in Western Kentucky.

The scene of the latest horror is the Bell Coke & Coal Mining Company's mine, which is located about a mile from Tradewater, in an isolated spot in the hills of North Crittenden. The first intimation neighbors had that anything had happened was shortly before midnight Monday by the shaking of houses and rattling of windows.

Many people waked from sound sleep terror-stricken and waited for further manifestations, but from the dull, heavy sound they decided that there had been an explosion.

The machinery at the Bell mine was being run at night in order to pump water out of the shaft. The men in charge were J. T. Gifford and Charles Travis. When last seen by the other men of the mine they were alive and well, but when the men rushed to the mine after the explosion they found only mangled pieces of human beings.

The big boiler had exploded with terrible force, wrecking the building and hurling the men high into the air and mangling them almost beyond recognition.

Sorrowfully their friends gathered the torn remains together, but Travis' head was missing entirely and could not be found. The men were both well known and had families. Gifford came from St. Joseph, Mo.

Travis' head was found later. He is a brother of E. Jeffrey Travis our county school superintendent, who left for the scene at once.

APPEAL TO REASON EDITOR SENTENCED

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 28.—F. D. Warren, of Girard, Kas., editor of a paper, Appeal to Reason, must serve a term of six months in the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., and pay a fine of $1,500 imposed by a jury in the United States Circuit of Appeals, filed today.

Judge Hook wrote the opinion and Judges Adams and Reed concurred.

Warren was accused of sending through the United States mails envelopes on the outside of which was printed "$1,000 reward will be paid to any person who kidnaps ex-Gov. Taylor and returns him to the Kentucky authorities."

The indictment charged that the words were scurrilous, defamatory and threatening in character, and intended to reflect injuriously on the character of Wm. S. Taylor, a former Governor of Kentucky.

The opinion of Judge Hook held that Congress had almost unlimited power to prescribe postal regulations; that whether the words were true or false, the outside of an envelope was no place for them.

I often wished that death might come and relieve my misery. The kidney secretions were filled with sediment and my limbs were badly swollen. The doctor said I had dropsy and held out little hope for my recovery. I could not raise my arms above my head, in fact, there was an almost complete paralysis of my right side. A relative advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and a box was procured for me at Haynes & Taylor's drug store. Free Sample Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the basic trouble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, gas, stomach aches, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work normally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of all kinds, you will become convinced that they do only temporary good. Next, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup. Peppermint, mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic, that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has succeeded in getting it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money, send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.

This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like the O. F. Scherzer of Syracuse, Ill., and Mrs. Carr, of Cedar Falls, Iowa, Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its great value to every member of the family.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowel trouble. Write to him in care of the office in Marion, Indiana. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

30 YEARS OF SUCCESS

Haynes & Taylor Offer A Remedy For Catarrh. The Medicine Costs Nothing if it Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with whom catarrh was a specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success to his record.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucu-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucu-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disinfect and cleanse the entire mucous membranous tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the mucous tissues, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the mucous cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, beginning a treatment to-day. At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Marion only at our store, —The Rexall Store. Haynes & Taylor Drug Co.

I understand you have taken charge of the Press again, if so and YOU are going to run it, send it to me for one year and I will send you one dollar just as soon as I hear from you.

I am getting along fine, we are all well pleased with Missouri, I am working all the time.

How is business in Marion and what is Calmes going to do, is he going to stay in Marion. He claims I owe him two dollars but I do not. I gave him seven tickets to the show, and that was more than was coming to him. Give my regards to Miss Mary Cameron.

Hoping you will have the best of success I beg to remain
Yours Very Truly,
M. CLARK.

Redlands, Cal. Nov. 18, 1910.
My dear friend:-

My "Press" arrived to day, and I must say that it is the newsiest and most interesting paper I have read in many a day. It contained a piece about a man who laughed continuously for 12 hrs, and I was wondering if he were not a subscriber of the Crittenden Press, and was giving vent to his exuberance because "our friend" had gotten back into editorial harness. I would blame him, for I was so happy over it that I sat down immediately and literally read it through, advertisements included. I send $1.00 to renew my subscription, do not know when it expired. Long live the Press and its popular editor.

Your friend,
Mrs. Carrie Thomas.

Friend Jenkins:—With bowed, uncovered head and ungloved hand extended, we cordially salute and gladly welcome you back to your former vocation, editor of the Record-Press, and feel assured that many others of your numerous friends will hail your return—not only with joy, but with warm hearts and helping hands. Hurrah! we'll never mind,—shake old friend, shake hearty!

It has been so long, or seemingly so since we have had the pleasure of holding sweet communion "that it seems like a dream, or some fairy tale."

We're so glad you are a "come back,"

So glad "it beats the band!"

We know that all your old friends,

Will extend a helping hand.

Come listen to this bosom, and A tale it shall unfold

For the way has grown a-weary

And O. G.'s growing old.

I am eighty-six years of age and I think I can say that my ambitions have been reasonably satisfied.

My desire to be happy myself and share that happiness with others has been fairly well satisfied.

I have learned that if we have made mistakes in the past reparation lies not in regrets, but in thankfulness that we now know better. We but redeem the past by forgetting it and losing ourselves in useful work.

When we begin to live out of ourselves, to appreciate interests that we do not share, and sympathize with joys and sorrows not our own, to respect knowledge that we have not yet gained, and wisdom from whatever source it comes, then shall we be released from the chains which keep us back from seeing much that is good, and our lives will become full and rich to ourselves, and precious to others.

Some men congratulate themselves on their position no matter what it is—the world is wrong not they. The Pharisee thinks God he is not like other men—and the other men think God they are not like the Pharisee.

Men are tattooed with their special beliefs like so many South Islanders; but a real human heart with divine love in it, beats with the same glow under all the patterns of all earth's thousand tribes.

In what little, low, dark cells of cave and prejudice, without one soaring thought of melodious fancy, do poor mortals forever creep! And yet the sun sets today as gloriously bright as it ever did on the temple of Athens, and the evening star rises as heavenly pure as it rose on the eye of Dante! Friend Jenkins! I am content—I am happy—I am cheerful! Bless your dear soul, the sunshine of cheerfulness is the greatest of all home sweetness, the greatest of all brightness—a magic power for good which lies within the reach of all, no matter what their condition or surroundings; and yet cheerfulness is the exception rather than the rule of habit among us. We must every one of us be a blessing or a curse to the world in which we live. We are all God's children, his growing children; for none of us attain our full growth in this life, and the pains we are unable to avoid are but the growing pains of a higher life, of a nobler manhood and a sweater and more beautiful womanhood. Or they are the tonics of the life here we all need, the medicine as it were, that God administers to us all,—bitter pills, bitter in themselves, it is true, but sugar coated, every one of them, if we but handle them right, and take them whole. God is good to all his children. He does not willingly afflict them; for "He knoweth their frame He remembereth that they are dust." Let us swallow our pills, like good sensible children. Why should we chew them like the fractious and and the fretful and then spit them out retaining only the nauseous tenacious bitter taste. Let us gratefully accept the sweet which covers the bitter, and pleasing ourselves as best we can in correspondence with good conditions, leave the shadows and gloom and enter into the clear, serene atmosphere of a sunny, cheerful life, into its power and into its glory.

Are you a cheerful loser? If so you are bound to win out in the long run. Take your medicine. Think truly, and thy thoughts all the world's fame feed; Speak truly, and thy life shall be a grand and noble creed.

We can always give our best, —For the cause that likes assistance

For the wrong that needs resistance

For man's future in the distance
And the good that we can do.

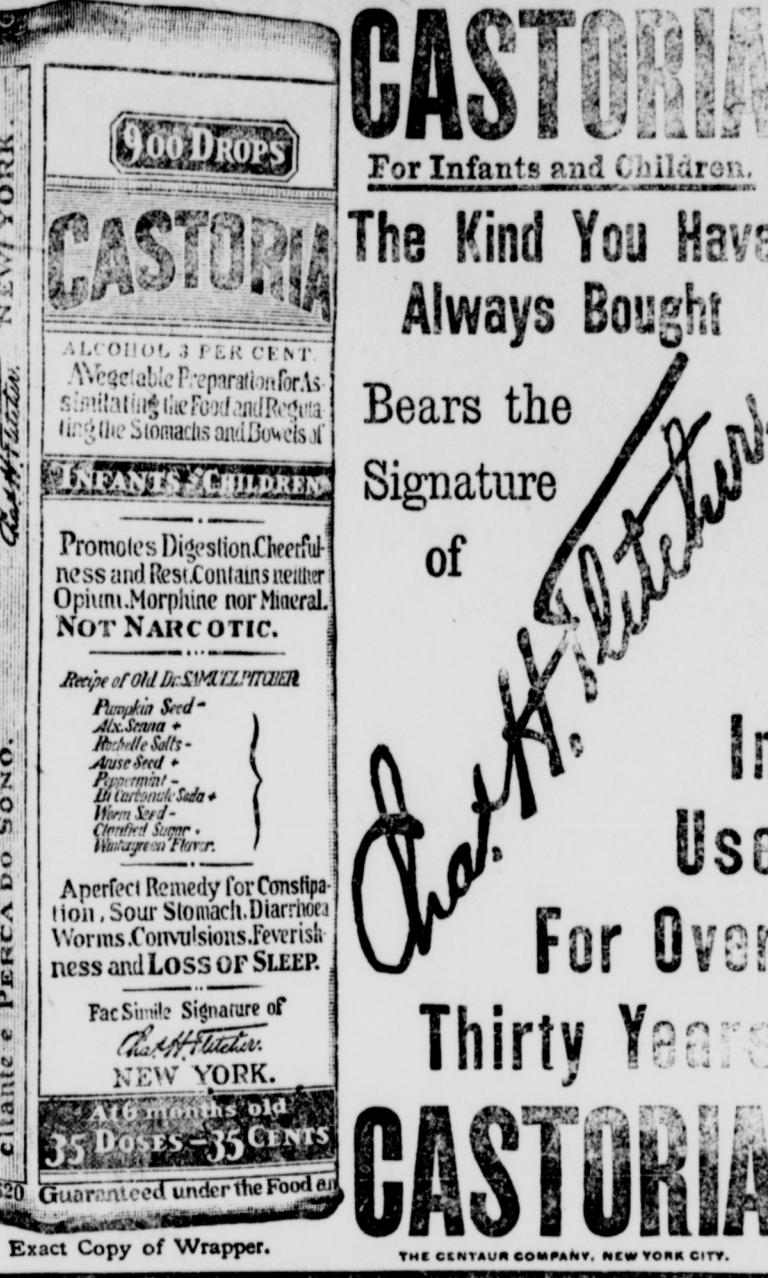

Well, here's
A health unto the happy,
A fig to him who frets;
It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining violets.

Let me now in conclusion, to suggest that one may be young in mind if he will keep his mind open to fresh influences from nature and wholesome human life. The sunny temper can be cultivated, and it is the secret of perpetual youth. Health prosperity and peace be yours is the sincere wish of

Yours cordially,

O. G. W.

Alva, Okla., Nov. 29—I will try to write a few lines to the Record-Press. It seems to me that there has been a reunion in Marion and Crittenden county the last two weeks. I see more names of people in the Press than I have seen before for eighteen months and more news. What is the matter? O, yes, I see S. M. J. says wait until he gets back into the harness and he will give us a good paper coming.

OBITUARY

Fannie Hall, daughter of B. F. and Docia James was born November 1883 and died July 1910. She leaves a husband and one little boy, a mother, six brothers and two sisters and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. While our loss is great it is her great gain, she has paid the debt that sooner or later we will all have to pay, she has gone on to meet her loved ones who have gone on before, she has two children a father and one brother who have crossed the river of death. While it is so sad and hard for us to give up our loved ones and so lonely too their places to be vacant here on earth we miss their company and sweet conversation, but Oh! what a blessed thought that we shall meet in that blessed beyond where there will be no more parting, no tears shed no goodbyes said, all will be joy and happiness when we meet on that glorified shore, where our loved ones are waiting our coming.

Dear friends we cannot mourn for Fannie as we would for one that had no hope in Christ, for she lived a Christian life and left the brightest evidence that she has gone on to the better land, she enjoyed for Christian people to engage in religious talks and she would join in with them and let them know of the great faith she had in prayer. In her last days of sickness she wanted the young people to come and sing for her, they would meet from time to time and sing the precious songs of Zion. She had some very favorite songs, like: Shall we meet beyond the river, and Happy Home and Meet me there and after her most favorites were sung she would tell them to select to suit themselves that they were all pretty and good. She bore her sickness with patience, her last words were—I'm going home and she fell asleep in Jesus. Oh! that all her loved ones when they come to die, may say as she did we're going home. May the Lord be with all mourning ones is our prayer.

A big Evangelist revival is going on here in the Union Tabernacle for a week, and they say it will continue for four or five weeks longer. 65 were claimed for Christ yesterday and last night. The preachers name is Wilford Hall Lyon. He is from Chicago, and is a good talker. The Tabernacle is 70x107 and it is full at the meetings.

I notice in the Press that James Arfack and family from Alva had returned to Marion. I went to looking around in Alva to see if the editor had not made a mistake, but I find that Jim is gone, so I will say good-bye Jim. Well I will quit, and if this does not find the waste basket perhaps I will write again. With best wishes to all.

ARMOUR PREDICTS BIG REDUCTION IN MEATS

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.—J. Ogden Armour, noted as a powerful factor in the world of finance and head of the firm of Armour & Co., declared today that there had not only been a reduction in the price of meats and other stock yard products, but that the prevailing tendency was toward a lower level. But in the expressed opinion of Mr. Armour the general public should not be too hasty in reaching the conclusion that the skids have been greased for a coaster slide from the pinnacle of topnotch prices to the bottom.

It is the belief of Mr. Armour that the descent will be gradual, and that the level will not be reached for several months at least.

MANGLED BODIES OF MINERS RECOVERED AT PROVIDENCE

Edward Vaughn's Head
Blown From Body

Several Bodies So Horribly Mangled
That Identification Almost Impossible.

"Windy Shot" The Cause.

(Special to the Gleaner)
PROVIDENCE, KY., Nov. 26.
Ten horribly mutilated bodies—the victims of the explosion of mine No. 3, of the Providence Coal Co., were removed from the bottom of the shaft today. All the bodies have been identified, although three were so fearfully mangled that identification could be made only from the clothing and articles found in the pockets of the victims.

Head Blown Completely Off.
The body of Edward Vaughn, one of the white miners who met his doom in the bowels of the earth, was so horribly dismembered that identification could not be made. His head was torn from the body and was never found. One arm is missing and the body from the waist up was shredded. Articles in the pockets enabled his friends to identify it. All the bodies were so mangled and blackened that immediate identification was impossible.

The Government rescue corps under J. Y. Williams and A. A. Samms reached Providence at 6 o'clock this morning on a special mine rescue demonstration car from Linton, Ind., where the corps has been on a tour through Southern Indiana coal regions instructing the miners and officials.

At 7 o'clock three members of the rescue party were lowered into the mine by a windlass erected during the night by the coal company. The experts, wearing helmets and other apparatus used in the perilous work, were lowered without difficulty. They found the body of Edward Vaughn near the bottom of the shaft. Ropes were tied around it and it was hoisted to the surface. Two negro bodies were next recovered. These were found several feet back from the opening.

Several miners were lowered in the mine to assist the experts but owing to the foul gases that filled the shaft they had to be hoisted to the surface.

The experts worked like Trojans before recovered the other bodies. Great masses of debris had to be removed before all the rooms could be explored. Twenty feet back from the body of the shaft the passage was completely stopped with slate, mine timbers and debris. This had to be removed, requiring several hours of diligent work with the pick and shovel.

The experts discovered that the explosion was immediately followed by a flow of black damp. To overcome this, all engines were put to work pumping fresh air into the shaft. Before all bodies were recovered this was alleviated and miners went down and rendered great assistance to the experts.

The cause of the catastrophe was an explosion of gases. Twenty men had been at work on the day shift but ten of them had left shortly before the disaster. All miners had left shots and it is supposed that one of shots was premature, which opened a vein of gas, or else ignited an accumulation of gases in the entries.

The whole population of Providence and surrounding county flocked to the scene shortly after the accident and began to assist in the rescue of the unfortunate men. Guards were placed around the mine and with much difficulty the crowds were kept back.

Work at every mine in the vicinity of Providence was suspended today and the miners gathered around the wreckage to assist in the rescue work. The families of the victims are being cared for by officials of the mine and everything is being done for their comfort.

As soon as the wreckage is cleared away the company will start an investigation to determine the cause of the explosion. According to the to the officials of the company all precautions were taken to prevent a disaster like that of Friday afternoon, and they are at a loss to know what was the direct cause of the accident.

The dead miners are: Wesley Fugate, white, 50; married, wife and seven children. Edward Vaughn, 22, unmarried. Cissel Shackleford, colored, 40, unmarried. John Woolfork, colored, 27, wife and one child. Willis Roscoe, colored, 32, wife and five children. George Johnson, colored, 45, wife and five children. Coley Johnson, colored, ten years of age. Coleman Northfeet, colored, 30, married Louis Liggon, 40, wife and four children. Hope Shelton, 42, wife and three children.

When the bodies were removed they placed on mattresses and carried to an undertaking establishment where Coroner Dorris held inquests. The verdict of the jury was that the men came to their death in an explosion of mine No. 3, of the Providence Coal Co., cause unknown.

The scene at the mine when the bodies were being brought to the surface was pathetic in the extreme. The wives and children of the dead men remained around the shaft all night hoping and praying that their loved ones had escaped.

But their hopes were shattered when the first body was raised to the ground. They then realized that all had been killed and the frantic grief of the wives and children caused men with strong hearts to weep and leave the scene.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. Fannie Koon was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Miller last week. She came to spend Thanksgiving and remained over Sunday, much to the pleasure of her hosts.

No doubt much surprise will be expressed when it becomes known that Ersel Paris, son of our townsmen, O. H. Paris is to relieve W. L. Venner at the I. C. Depot. (It is only for a short time however while Venner goes for a weeks hunt.)

Mrs. J. M. Ward, of Collierville, Tenn., a residence suburb of Memphis, was here Monday enroute home after a pleasant Thanksgiving visit to relatives in and near Salem. Mrs. Ward is a daughter of the late Judge McCollum a former and distinguished citizen of Salem.

Lacy Truitt, of Rodney, was here Friday after a load of flour for Ham Sullivan's store at Rodney. He brought in a four horse load of corn from the John Nunn farm.

LOST.—Between Marion and Tolu, Ky., one small pocket book with two pockets in it. It had $25.30 in it; $23.00 in paper $2.30 in silver. Finder of it will please deliver same to Postmaster at Tolu, Ky., and get reward.

J. P. FORD.

Mrs. Henri Lamb went to Providence, Ky., Saturday evening to visit her husband, Mr. J. Watt Lamb, who is Superintendent of the mine in which the terrible explosion occurred last week. Mr. Lamb had just left the mine and was uninjured.

Mrs. Margaret Hopewell and daughter, Miss Nora, of Madisonville were guests of Mrs. T. C. Carter several days last week. Accompanied by Mrs. Carter they went to Sturgis Monday to visit Mrs. Carter's mother, Mrs. Hopewell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McMurry left Wednesday for Fredericksburg to visit the family of T. E. Easley where they will be the guest at a big Thanksgiving dinner today—their first feast from home on this holiday during a married life of twenty-one years.—Sturgis News-Democrat.

Henry Martin and wife, of Blackford, were guests of the European Hotel yesterday morning, on return home from their bridal trip through the East. Mr. Martin was formerly a fireman on the Evansville division, and is well known in Princeton.—Princeton Leader.

Henry & Henry, of Marion passed through the city Tuesday enroute to Dixon, in the interest of their marble business. The gentlemen report a good business which is evidenced by the amount they are putting out, which is likewise evidence that the grade of work is entirely satisfactory.—Webster County Times.

Butler Cain is not only a good juror but a good farmer too, from all reports. This year he cultivated a field on the old Cain homestead where he was born, 60 years ago, and has lived ever since and made over 30 bushels of corn to the acre. The wonderful part of this story, aside from the fact that Butler cultivated this field himself, is that the land was cleared 90 years or more ago and has been in cultivation ever since, which would indicate that it is pretty good dirt or has been taken good care of.

We are informed that Vernon Oakley, Editor of the Clay, Ky., Times will in honor of the arrival of a daughter at his house on Thanksgiving eve, celebrate the happy event by getting out a mammoth 40 page illustrated edition of his paper for the Christmas trade, will keep open house all during the holiday, have cigars and champagne for every subscriber, give all his employees a week off and not issue any paper Christmas week. We wish you many returns of the day old man.

The regular Union Thanksgiving service was held on Thursday morning last in the Main street Presbyterian church, Dr. Arthur Mather pastor of the Methodist church preaching the sermon to a large congregation. The Doctor was supported in the pulpit by Rev. J. G. Haynes, pastor of the Methodist church.

at Carterville, Mo., who made the introductory invocation; and the Rev. M. E. Miller, pastor of the Baptist, who pronounced the benediction. The music was under the direction of W. B. Yates, who with the assistance of a choir, and quartett consisting of the Yates Brothers, and Messrs. Crider, and C. S. Nunn, rendered an excellent quartett which was greatly enjoyed. The usual offering was taken on behalf of the poor of the city.

The subject of Dr. Mather's sermon was "Your Country and Mine," and was dealt with in a forceful, yet interesting manner. Speaking from the text, "Righteousness exalted a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." The preacher put forth a wonderful picture of our national life and resources, and pointed out something of the future, which he insisted was brighter with promise than any period of the past had ever been provided that we are wise to act in our day and generation. The illustration used and the arguments made showed that Dr. Mather was master of his theme and gave yet another proof of his pulpit effectiveness.

Will Clark Speaks to Old Soldiers.

W. H. Clark, attorney, formerly of Marion, attended the reunion at Seldon, Kansas last week and responded to a call for a speech to the old soldiers. In the course of his remarks, he dropped the following gem to the old boys:

Some one asked what I thought of your old soldiers? I said, I think they are a great band of faithful sentinels, getting drowsy under the weight of many years of service, lost in the melody of old camp-days, intoxicated with the sweetness of the hour, held spell bound by the matchless charm of brotherly love of their comrades. Lost in the happiness of many dreams that gather joy and pleasure a new from each old comrade as the golden rod gathers sweetness and luster from each succeeding ray of God's glorious sunlight, and thus dreaming they pass away, one by one, and go to answer the roll-call of the Great commander, and departing leave behind them in the hearts of the American people eternal song of "peace on earth good will toward men."

"Sure Cure"

"I would like to guide suffering women to a sure cure for female troubles," writes Mrs. R. E. Mercer, of Frozen Camp, W. Va. "I have found no medicine equal to Cardui. I had suffered for about four years. Would have headache for a week at a time, until I would be nearly crazy. I took Cardui and now I never have the headache any more."

Take CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

The pains from which many women suffer every month are unnecessary.

It's not safe to trust to strong drugs, right at the time of the pains.

Better to take Cardui for a while, before and after, to strengthen the system and cure the cause.

This is the sensible, the scientific, the right way.

Try it.

NATIVE OF CHRISTIAN

Mr. F. B. Moody, a native of this county, died Nov. 16th at Lake City Fla., aged 77 years. He left this county many years ago and was one of the pioneer Baptists of Florida. He was a brother of Rev. Dr. J. B. Moody, the noted Baptist divine, and a nephew of Mrs. J. F. Mills, of this city. He was born and reared near Fairview.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Mr. Moody was largely interested in mining matters in this country and was a regular reader of the Crittenden Record-Press for many years.

THE LINCOLN FARM

Doubtless every school boy and girl in Crittenden county know of Abraham Lincoln, but none perhaps have seen his old home place in La Rue county. It was my privilege to conduct a series of meetings lately near the birthplace of this great man.

The church is situated on the old Louisville and Nashville turnpike. This road was built nearly a hundred years ago and will stand a hundred more. There were what is known as stage stands along the road, where fresh horses were kept ready to take the place of those that had galloped from the last stopping place. I say galloped for that was the way they went we are told, changing every few miles for fresh ones. These big red stages drawn by four horses were of as much interest to the early people as the automobiles that run on this road now, and perhaps more so as they carried the mail as well as many passengers with their cargo of bundles and trunks piled high upon top. The boy who has not seen one of these stage coaches has missed something for to me they are more interesting than a fast railroad train.

Along this pike Andrew Johnson, James K. Polk and many other prominent Southern men used to travel going to Louisville and on to Washington. One of the most picturesque scenes on this road is where this pike passes over Muldraughes hill, winding here and there, cut out of the mountain side, this smooth and broad road runs no doubt at a cost of many thousands of dollars. But I began to tell you about the Lincoln farm. Well this farm lies about two and a half miles from this pike on a dirt road leading from the pike to Hodgenville the county seat of LaRue county. Now don't imagine a beautiful farm well laid off, with large barns and strong fences, for it is not, but it is one of the poorest farms in the county. The land is limestone, full of sinks, it is sodded with sedge grass and has thickets of sassafras, sumac and various kinds of Kentucky sprouts.

The old cabin stood about a quarter of a mile from the road, near a very large spring, known as the Lincoln spring. There are two entrances leading to this notable place, from the main road at one two large brick pillars stand, at the other two massive granite structures with a large copper chain for the gate. Where the log cabin stood there is now a large memorial hall of granite which is thirty feet wide, fifty feet long and forty feet high, all this stone came from stone creek Connecticut and put up at a cost of one hundred thousand dollars. Money enough spent to erect a large school building, but as it is it looks like some deserted mosque. This structure stands on a hill facing the South, on the South side there is a porch with six massive granite columns, while there only are four on the other three sides set in so as to make it more majestic and beautiful. There are large double doors on North and South sides of the building. Once there was a winding path from this cabin to the large spring down under the hill, where Lincoln, a barefoot boy used to go to get water. Now there is a broad flight of steps, twenty or twenty-five feet wide from curb to curb. These steps are in four flights with fourteen to each flight with a base of perhaps ten feet between each. After going down these we come to a level where all the carriages will stop, turning to the right we go down a flight of narrow stone steps to the spring, where the old gourd used to be and the sparkling waters are ever falling. There is a great white oak tree standing above the spring listening to all you say and watching all you do.

On each side of this flight of steps the ground is terraced and sown in bluegrass, with a beautiful little fence of tiny evergreen shrubs, around it and farther out there are two rows of silver poplars, some day all this will be beautiful.

This log cabin is now in the great hall under lock and key. No one will be allowed to see it until dedication day which will be next summer perhaps.

We saw this cabin two years ago, when Mr. Teddy Roosevelt was there, it looked just like other cabins but I am sure many of our young people would like to see this noted place.

GIRLS WILL BE GIRL

Soon after the girls of a family residing in one of Philadelphia's suburbs had been installed in a fashionable seminary near that town their names had been transformed in accordance with the practice obtaining at the seminary. Mabel had become "Maibelle," May, "Maeme;" and soon Jessie caught the infection. She wrote a letter to her elder brother Sam, and signed it "Jessica" Sam detected the signs of the times, and this was his reply: "Dear Sister Jessica: Your letter received. Aunt Marica and Uncle Georgica started for Bostonica yesterday. Mammaica and paprica are well. I bought a new bull terrier yesterday. She is a beauty. Her name is Maudica. Your affectionate brother, 'Samica.'

ARE YOU DEAF?

Catarrh Is probably The Cause.
Get Rid of The Cause.

If you have catarrh and have constant ringing noises in your ears look into the matter at once.

It's a pretty sure sign that catarrh is spreading and is making its way through the Eustachian tubes that lead from the nose to the ears.

When catarrh gets to the ears partial deafness follows. If you have ringing noises in your ears go to Haynes & Taylor's to-day and get a HYOMEI outfit and drive out catarrh.

To cure catarrh HYOMEI should be breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes, four or five times a day. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler and breathe it.

It kills the germs; soothes the irritation; heals the inflammation; stops hawking, spitting and snuffing.

HYOMEI keeps the throat free from mucus and prevents crusts in nose.

The complete HYOMEI outfit which includes the little indestructible hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEI and simple instructions for use, costs $1.00.

THE DAIRY COW

The dairy cow does more than bring financial success to the dairy farmer. She makes him a better citizen than he would otherwise be. Her influence upon home conditions is a most pleasing contribution to those factors which are responsible for the changed conditions which prevail in the farm homes of today. Thousands of these homes are now characterized by comfort and happiness where formerly they were blighted by druggery and unhappiness.

Better financial conditions have contributed to this change, and the dairy cow has been in no small measure responsible. She has contributed in still another way. The dairy cow teaches kindness. Her owner soon learns that only by treating her kindly can he secure the highest possible returns from her, and she responds quickly to kind words and proper care. Her disposition is one that the human family might well emulate. She is patient and long suffering, acquiescing mutely in the arrangements made by her owner for carrying on the dairy business, striving at all times to repay him for every effort made for her care and comfort.

The members of the family, as they come in contact with her and her kindly disposition, are influenced for good. As they appreciate the financial benefit to come from caring for her well they take a deeper interest in her, in doing so they unconsciously cultivate those qualities which make them better citizens.

The dairy cow—the prototype of man's best friend—is wielding a greater influence than she is generally credited with. She has always been found in the front ranks in the march of civilization and no agricultural country can long prosper without her. She is a potent factor in the upbuilding of such a country, financially, and socially, and a wise people will appreciate her and encourage the industry of which she is the foundation.

DAMAGE SUIT IS DISMISSED

Mrs. Keiner Wanted big Damages
Woman was Arrested on Charge of Stealing Watch

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 28.—At a night session of Federal Court held here yesterday the case of Laura Keiner against James Collins chief of the police of this city, and S. H. Heilbronner, deputy city marshal of Henderson, Ky., was disposed of.

The suit grew out of the arrest of the plaintiff, who is known as Madam B. Castellano, in this city, in October, 1909, under a warrant issued by the Police Judge of Henderson, on a charge of grand larceny. The plaintiff asked for $10,000 damages. During the month of October, 1909, Daisy Moss a colored school teacher of Henderson, Ky., was visited by a palmist. A few minutes after the departure of the fortune teller a gold watch was missed and the school teacher immediately reported her loss to M. P. Abel, Henderson's city marshal. That officer immediately made an effort to locate the person who had visited the Moss home, having an excellent description upon which to locate his quarry. A short time afterwards he received information that a person, who followed the profession of palmistry and who fitted the description, resided in Paducah, and was known as Madam B. Castellano. A warrant was secured and Deputy Heilbronner came to this city and turned over his warrant to the police department and the plaintiff in the suit was arrested. The officers later determined that they did not care to hold the party under arrest and she was not taken to Henderson.

Later the Henderson county grand jury returned an indictment against Madam Castellano and she was taken to Henderson by Chief of Police Collins and identified by Daisy Moss and her mother. She was permitted to give bail, and after being in the Henderson county jail for a short time and upon her trial in the Henderson Circuit Court proved an alibi and was acquitted.

The suit was begun yesterday afternoon and continued after supper.

After the completion of the plaintiff's evidence, the attorneys for the defendants moved to grant a peremptory instruction and after Judge Evans indicated that he would dismiss the suit as to the several defendants, the attorneys for the plaintiff dismissed the suit as to all the defendants.

Plant a Tree.

Many years ago it was a custom when a child was born to commemorate the event by planting a tree. Today there are many trees sacredly guarded because they were planted by or for some one to perpetuate. Every reader of this article no doubt recalls one or more trees with which are associated pleasant memories.

It may be the one in the yard under which you were accustomed to play. It may be the one that sheltered you when overtaken by a storm on your way to school. It may be the one on the river bank under which you sat fishing pole in hand. It may be the one under which you and your lover exchanged vows, or it may be made dear to you by any one of the many incidents of life.

When your child is grown, give it an opportunity to possess a living tree which it can call its own. Mary's and John's trees will be cared for with tender hands, and when their namesake has forsaken the old homestead, there will always be a yearning to see "my tree" again.

REV. OAKLEY QUITE SICK

The publisher is in receipt of a letter from his father, the Rev. W. T. Oakley, of Marion, stating that he is completely broken down physically, is under the care of a physician, and will not be able to meet with his congregation for probably some weeks. A telephone message Sunday and a visit Tuesday proved that he is completely incapacitated for active exertion, is hardly capable of arising when on his back, and is quite unable to walk, except about his room. His trouble appears to have been caused by continuous public speaking his voice having broken down, and other troubles resulting in consequence. We like others, sincerely trust that he may soon be up and about again.—Webster County Times.
